Collective Bargaining Update

On July 13 and 14, our EWAO-ATEO team met with the Crown at the Central Table to officially commence collective bargaining. Our main focus during these initial meetings was establishing clear ground rules.

We made solid progress and are currently scheduling upcoming dates to continue negotiations.

Thank you for your continued support, and we will keep you updated as discussions move forward.

Together for Publicly Funded Education: Stand in Solidarity at the St. Jacobs Farmers' Market!

Dear Members,

We are reaching out to share and support a great initiative by our allies at CUPE in Waterloo Region

Tomorrow July 21st, we encourage everyone who is able to come out, show support, and connect with fellow education workers.

- Where: St. Jacobs Farmers' Market
- When: July 21st between 9:00 AM – 3:00 PM
- What: CUPE Education Worker Solidarity Initiative

Whether you can drop by for an hour or stay longer, we'd love to see you there!

Hope to see you there!
