

E-Blast

On Saturday February 21, parents, educators, trustees and MPPs gathered at RIM Park for the Together in Education (TIE) Public Education Advocacy Symposium. A strong show of solidarity across Waterloo Region. TIE is a grassroots coalition of families and education workers committed to protecting and strengthening publicly funded education.

EAA President Lisa Weiler Haskins was proud to represent EA and CYW members on the panel, speaking to the growing and complex student needs members support everyday and the urgent need for funding that reflects those realities. The message was clear : protecting public education is about priorities, and collective advocacy makes a difference.

Thank you to EAA Vice President Lynn Wilson and EAA CYW Representative Laura Parker for their leadership and dedication on the organizing committee. Their work is helping build coordinated, community-driven advocacy across the region.
